

Elementary

1. be able to do sth
2. go off
3. spot
4. inform someone about something
5. search for, hunt for
6. failed
7. severe

1. For the people who wanted to go off a bomb in central London.
2. They could stop two bombs from going off.
3. They found one in front of a club, and another one at a parking garage.
4. They found one late on Thursday evening, and the other on Friday morning.
5. An ambulance driver called them, and in the other case the workers at the garage called them.
6. By a call to a mobile phone.
7. It would have done a lot of damage, and a lot of people would have died.

Intermediate

1. fail to do sth
2. ignite
3. maim
4. showpiece
5. seek
6. defuse
7. lethal
8. reveller
9. high-profile
10. sift through

1. Police expand inquiries after the attack on Glasgow airport.
2. The bombs were not big enough to do too much damage or to kill too many people.
3. The terrorists seem to have changed tactics and focus on smaller, unpredictable targets.
4. They put the bombs into two cars which were both Mercedes.
5. The bombs would have been triggered by a call to the mobile phones inside the cars.
6. The car was taken to Forensic Explosives Laboratory where it is given a thorough examination.
7. According to some reports, the police now have the "crystal clear" image of one of the suspects as he is leaving the car.
8. Police are now sifting through hours' and hours' of materials recorded by street CCTV cameras.
9. The use of unsophisticated devices suggests that these were not professional terrorists belonging to a terrorist association, but only some radical British Islamists.
10. There are several major terrorist attacks planned by Islamic radicals against Britain.

Advanced

1. ram
2. imminent
3. yield
4. vigilant
5. step up

1. The fifth arrest has been made in connection with the bombings.
2. A 26 – year –old person has been arrested in Liverpool.
3. A man and a woman have been arrested on M6.
4. The Cherokee which crashed into the doors of the main terminal of Glasgow airport had the registration number L808 RDT.
5. The Glasgow crash happened at 3.11pm.
6. There were two men inside the car, one of whom set himself on fire.
7. A 4x4-style Jeep was seen outside the property.
8. A 29-year-old student had some information about the Jeep.